ACE HOTEL NEW ORLEANS

EST: 2016

Ace Hotel New Orleans sits at the intersection of Carondelet and Lafayette Street in a beautiful 1928 Art Deco building, flanked by museums and galleries in the city's culturally-vibrant Warehouse District. A stone's throw from the French Quarter, our historic nine-story building has marinated in the magic of one of the world's most cosmopolitan cities for nearly a century. Ace New Orleans is home to some of the finest dining & drink in the city, a rooftop pool and a music venue right on site – with doors wide open to the city's most treasured cultural emissaries.

EVENT SPACES

At Ace Hotel New Orleans, we have spaces suitable for events large and small, wild and nonchalant, weird and wonderful. Our meeting rooms and event spaces are flexible enough to hold any type of occasion, whether you're hosting a meeting, concert, film screening, wedding or anything else you might need some space for. We're happy to help brainstorm. (It's our favorite thing.)

BARNETT HALL ¹

- 4,000 sq ft
- 400 theater
- 400 cocktail
- 240 banquet

The great big Barnett Hall is our 4,000 sq ft center space – ideal for presentations, weddings, product launches, film screenings, social gatherings, dinners or whatever else you need an expansive room for. Plus, it's flexible: you can divide Barnett Hall into two separate, intimate spaces, and your guests can enter either from our street-side courtyard or through the lobby art gallery. Barnett Hall is your oyster.

BARNETT GREEN ROOM BARNETT MUSIC ROOM ²

- (Meeting Room) 960 sq ft
- 80 theater
- 80 cocktail
- 56 banquet

Barnett Music Room and Barnett Green Room are Ace New Orleans' dividable, highly adaptable twin social spaces. Both rooms work great for meetings and gatherings, parties both reserved and rebellious.

BARNETT DINING ROOM ³

- (PDR) 675 sq ft
- 50 theater
- 40 cocktail
- 36 banquet

Long on Gulf Coast charm, our beautiful Barnett Dining Room is an intimate banquet hall lit from above by radiant chandeliers – old New Orleans interiors optimal for your everything.

WEDDINGS

THERE'S NEVER A DRY EYE

We love weddings. Each one is different, and we're committed to realizing your vision, however grand or small. Whatever you need, there's a good chance we'll be able to accommodate. We can help you with catering, recommend vendors and set up a friendly rate so everybody can stay together.

The best compliment we ever got from wedding guests here was that they forgot they were at an event space – they just felt like they were hanging out with their friends. There's a Creole proverb we really like. It loosely translates to: Show us what you love and we'll tell you who you are. If you're going to do it, New Orleans is the city to wear your heart prominently on your sleeve and to let love guide you to a new place. Whether you want to get hitched in the middle of a Second Line parade or waltz in a traditional Cajun wedding march, Ace New Orleans has a space for it all. The super flexible Barnett Hall offers a series of event spaces that can be combined or separated in a myriad of ways – just as suited for intimate gatherings as for grand, raucous receptions.

DINING & DRINK

JOSEPHINE ESTELLE ^A

Josephine Estelle is an all-occasion osteria inside Ace Hotel New Orleans, combining the seasonal, craft-centric philosophy of Italian cuisine with the flavors of the American South. Chefs Andy Ticer and Michael Hudman steer the ship with Executive Chef Ysaac Ramirez, and the menu is inspired by the dishes they grew up learning to cook with their big Italian-American families in Memphis.

In Tennessee, they've helmed the restaurants Andrew Michael Italian Kitchen, Hog & Hominy and Catherine & Mary's, along with neighborhood butcher shop Porcellino's Craft Butcher; Josephine Estelle – named for each of their daughters – is the first venture to bring their award-winning culinary sensibility southward. Beyond Josephine Estelle, Andy and Michael are also at the head of all culinary programming at Ace.

Specializing in the housemade pastas and Italian dishes whose nuances they learned at the foot of their grandmothers, and the bright, vibrant flavors that drew Andy and Michael to New Orleans in the first place, Josephine Estelle is the product of an ever-evolving dedication and love for food and commitment to family.

SEAWORTHY ^B

Residing in a historic townhouse near Lafayette Square, Seaworthy (helmed by Executive Chef Daniel Causgrove) is an oyster bar showcasing the breadth of bivalves from All-American waters – sustainably harvested from the East, West and Gulf Coasts. Opened by Ace Hotel New Orleans with the support of the team behind New York's award-winning Grand Banks, Seaworthy culls inspiration from transformative sailing trips along Gulf Coast waterways, the time-worn traditions of Southern hospitality. Our wild-caught oysters pair perfectly with locally sourced fish and game, plus an inspired drink menu of both classic and proprietary cocktails and a smart selection of beer and wine.

STUMPTOWN COFFEE ^C

Stumptown Coffee Roasters are American craft coffee pioneers and longtime friends of Ace. Known for sourcing and serving some of the best coffee, cold brew and espresso in the world, Stumptown's Ace New Orleans outpost is their first cafe in the South. The New Orleans coffee bar serves their signature espresso and hot coffee drinks, and features an unprecedented cold brew coffee program – a reverent nod to the city that put iced coffee on the map.

ALTO ^D

Alto is Ace Hotel New Orleans' rooftop garden and grill. From 10am-9pm, you can relax poolside while snacking on small plates, sipping seasonal cocktails and enjoying panoramic views of the city. The hotel's culinary partners, Chefs Andy Ticer and Michael Hudman, have crafted an Italian-inspired menu with salads, seafood, pizza and spiedini. In addition to cocktails, Alto's inspired bar offers a rotating tap, frozen drinks, craft beer and fine wine.

LOBBY BAR ^E

In the heart of Ace New Orleans' French Deco-inspired living room, the lobby bar serves up bright cocktails and homey yet polished Southern and Italian victuals seven days a week. Amidst spirits, trinkets and artwork, you can slide up to a Sazerac or enjoy the near-nightly entertainment off the lobby in our intimate music venue, Three Keys.

THREE KEYS ^F

Three Keys is a venue dedicated to the ineffable magic of New Orleans – a place where musicians and performers, piano princes and drag queens, can feel the same freedom of spirit and collaboration they do in their living rooms and studios. Featuring regular DJ nights, live and local bands, lectures, readings and trivia.
